CIRCULATION AUDITED

HISTORY

Moneysaver has been published continuously since January 18, 1973. The free want ad newspaper was first distributed on racks in high traffic areas in Lewiston, Idaho and Clarkston, Washington. In 1977, Moneysaver began building a private carrier system to deliver the paper in the urban areas. In 1998 Moneysaver purchased ADmart, a competitor in the Moscow, Idaho and Pullman Washington market. Today Moneysaver Lewis Clark Edition and Moneysaver Palouse Edition are delivered to homes and stores Thursday morning. The Circulation Verification Council audits circulation of both Moneysavers.

MEMBERSHIPS

Both Moneysavers are wholly owned subsidiaries of Eagle Newspapers, Inc. of Salem Oregon. Moneysaver is a founding member of the Pacific Northwest Association of Want Ad Newspapers. Memberships are maintained in PNAWAN, Association of Free Community Papers, the Chambers of Commerce of Lewiston, Clarkston, Moscow, and Pullman, the Lewis Clark Association of Realtors®, Whitman County Association of Realtors®, and the Latah County Board of Realtors®.

ADVERTISING POLICY

The Moneysaver reserves the right to edit any advertising deemed objectionable. The Moneysaver does not accept advertisements requesting money for merchandise or information not clearly described. The Moneysaver cannot guarantee placement. The Moneysaver will be responsible, up to the price of the ad, for errors in ads (not the advertiser's fault) by repeat that portion of the ad in which the error occurred if notified within 5 days of publication.

CREDIT POLICY

The Business Manager must approve all new credit accounts. Terms net 30 days. All advertising will be suspended on accounts 30 days in arrears.
